DAVID LAING HEAD TEACHING PROFESSIONAL

David hails from Edinburgh, Scotland.

David prides himself on developing the group coaching programmes and competition structure at the Montgomerie Golf Club Dubai. Growing the Junior Development Programme has been a rewarding project that he has focused on and that continues to produce superb golfers at the academy.

David is certified by the Titleist Performance Institute with a focus on physical screening, junior athletic development and golf coaching around physical limitations. He is also qualified as a Level 2 Swing Catalyst instructor, which helps golfers understand how to create a powerful efficient golf swing using ground force reactions.

Further to this he has gathered experience learning from leading instructors and has had the opportunity to share theories with leading European Tour professionals.

He has an open-minded philosophy to coaching, believes each pupil learns in a different way and various methods work better depending on the player. He prides himself on being able to create an enjoyable yet productive experience for all levels of golfer.

ALEXANDROS TOOULI SENIOR TEACHING PROFESSIONAL

Alex was born in London and moved to Cyprus at an early age where he spent all of his young life. Introduced to the game of golf by his Father at the age of 12, it wasn't long until he became obsessed with the game.

He would go on to become the Captain of the Cyprus Junior National Team and represent Cyprus at various European events at a Junior level.

After spending 2 years doing his military service, Alex decided to focus all his efforts into becoming a Golf Professional. He would then move back to the UK where he started his professional career at Tandridge Golf Club. Whilst there he completed his Professional Golf Studies FDSC with the University of Birmingham.

Alex is passionately committed to helping golfers reach their full golfing potential and maximise their enjoyment of the game.

MICHAEL HARDEN TEACHING PROFESSIONAL

Michael Harden, a PGA professional from America, is an accomplished young professional with a fresh and positive approach to Golf instruction.

Michael received his training from the PGA of America at Clemson University to learn modern teaching techniques that incorporate technology and a hands-on approach to help students better learn the game of Golf. His teaching methodology focuses on keeping the swing as simple as possible to ensure that students gain the most out of their learning experience to help them achieve their goals for Golf.

Michael has gained a lot of experience competing in college and PGA sectional events. He is passionate about taking his students on the Golf Course and sharing his thoughts on Course management. Michael offers valuable tips on all the different types of situations that you will find on the Golf Course so that you can replicate that during your practice.

Michael excels at teaching the short game and creating the correct positions to gain explosive distance for your long game. Through Michael's teaching methodology, you will be able to finally know your swing, how to find and fix your swing faults, and replicate the shots you hit on the practice range on the Golf Course.

RYAN DEERY TEACHING PROFESSIONAL

Ryan grew up in Bedfordshire in the UK, 30 miles north of London. Taking up Golf at the age of 7, he progressed through Junior Golf, playing throughout Bedfordshire and Hertfordshire.

Ryan turned professional in 2017 and spent 3 years studying for his PGA qualification. During and on completing his degree Ryan built and expanded his client base. In this time, he coached all standards and ages of Golfers, from beginners through to professionals.

Ryan sees himself as a coach who is always still learning and increasing his knowledge, to be able to help the Golfers he is coaching. This is shown in his Level 1 TPI certification and Level 2 Trackman certification.

Ryan's coaching style is based around consistent fundamentals, and improving Golfers' skill sets across their whole game, as well as a high focus on performance management.
